Monty's Fan Club, Away With Two Chairs

Things were fine before she left us
On that hot summer day
There's an unspoken sense of trust
And the years would fill the void in every way

Faced with Fear, Now that you're gone

Is this over?
(givin it, givin it up
givin it, givin it up)
Maybe
What'd you do to me?
Don't try to right the wrong
Take it back. Taking it back
Cuz it's killing me to see

You said so I can't be here I can't be here for you
You said so I can't be here I can't be here

Take the oxygen from the tank and Rip it from your lungs without a sound
How can you breath?
Are you naive can't you see the gas will run out?

Faced with Fear, Now that you're gone
Is this over?
(givin it, givin it up
givin it, givin it up)
Maybe
What'd you do to me?
Don't try to right the wrong
Take it back. Taking it back
Cuz it's killing me to see

You said so I can't be here I can't be here for you
You said so I can't be here I can't be here
And I'm so far in, And so far I'm gone
From this Family It's what I've felt
So what if I was wrong
What if wrong?

And so now
You're lost and alone
We're sick of being alone
Oh, now that we're not standing it
And you're to blame
You said so I can't be here I can't be here for you
You said so I can't be here I can't be here
And I'm so far in, And so far I'm gone
From this Family. It's what I've felt
So what if I was wrong
What if wrong?
