

Monument, Blood Red Sky

Running from the law
The mist will hide your face
Just like a thief at night
You left behind no trace

The dirty deed was done
Her life you now have claimed
The pain of being betrayed
Was just too much to take

Seduced and taken in a dream/driven into sin
Betrayal is a deadly sin
Beautiful stranger...

A gypsy's kiss is deadly
The curse will claim your life
Black magic has no mercy
You'll never know the reason why
All you ever loved just had to die
Angel tears now veil the blood red sky

Pain and agony
Are now your friends at night
You can't forget her face
It penetrates your mind

Can't understand how she could do such thing to you
The poison took control she wasn't who you knew
