

Moon Safari, We Spin The World

Sitting on cloud, making jokes to the crowd
Telling tales of the sun, and how it begun
Spin the world of time with my help you'll be fine
Life is worth a while, if everyone would smile

Smile and sing alone, we won't blame no one
Unleash colours within, the world is set aspin

You say you're one of a kind
But I don't believe in you that much
I say that we all are one no matter what colours we are Because the colour of you is me where would be without a helping hand? And someone that understand?
The soapbox opera of a daily grey will play from the cradle to the grave.

Throw your soul away like a coin in the wishing well
But there is no need to gamble, you can't win this game is rigged
And once the game is played, where would you go when you're already won?
The road to the goal is what matters and now we're taking off.

Smile and sing a song, we hope you'll come along
Unleash colours within, the world is set aspin

Remember how we used to play when we were kids and the world was new.
Well, I am still the silly one, the same although my face has changed.
I have a beard and my hair is longer, but I still don't have a job
So I'll keep on staring at the skies asking why, when what why

All join as one, turn the moon into a sun

Come in from the cold, relax you're home
Safe and sound, so dry your eyes

Someone borrowed something blue, heaven's losing 0 for 2
Winter's old when spring is new, grace let the sunshine warm our frozen hearts
And in time you will Three times a charm, when love is a part of everything you will

See us sail on a single raindrop through a web of dreams
We can play any tune we'd like. Cause they're all alive
Paper people on fragile feet, all give in to the human heat
Share our vision everlasting: we are one in the light fantastic.

Through the sun and into the unknown, we cast our stone.
And the weight of the world at our backs, were left behind on the track
Sunshine people you carry the wind, that will turn the whole world around Winter mornings melt into spring, the call of summer and choirs will sing la la la.

You said you were one of a kind
But I did not think you looked like much
You told me of rivers and mountains, a simple world left untouched
But time has a funny way of telling the truth at the very end
And now I see that you are me, a child with grownups eyes.

You told me that life was a doorway that we should walk through You showed me the way and you said that I walk it to Yes, time has a funny way of telling you the truth at the very end
And now I see that you are me, a child with grownups eyes.

We spin the world, around, turn the moon into a sun
We spin the world around, with love and faith, we can, we can create.
