

Moonface, Faraway Lightning

You were the crashing of the satellite
Onto my black-earth heart
To brighten up the night

You were the body falling off the wall
To wear upon the stone
Like a waterfall

Oh, oh, where did you go?
Oh, oh, I have to know
Oh, oh,
I search the sky for signs of your violence

You were the faraway lightning
Going down
So silently

You were the rain that came like rain
When the hurricane broke free
And every wild prick broke in to song

Oh, oh, where did you go?
Oh, oh...
I search the sky at night for a sign of your violence

Oh, oh
You keep on falling down
I will be standing with the others when you hit the ground
Oh, oh
You keep on falling down
I will be standing undercover when you hit the ground

You told me I was not the only one
But you should trust me love
I am the only one

Oh, oh
You keep on falling down
I will be floating to the island either way
