

Moonlight Awakening, Lost to see you again, to hold you in embrace to feel hope again, to hold it and embrace the memory of your eyes, the memory i've sought but i won't find it ever cause all that's left is lost you stood before me and i forgot to breathe now those days are gone, i'm hurting everyone but i can't take back all i've said and done so now i lay here restless, alone i am distraught i've chosen my own ways and all that's left is lost i wish this pain would leave, i wish i couldn't breathe
