

Moonlight Awakening, Stranded

I've traveled so far
To be in this place
A beautiful day
It's such a shame.

In so many ways I was frozen,
For just one moment more, I'd say
In so many ways alone, always...

However I try
To see what it means
No one would stay
Stranded this way.

In so many ways I was broken,
For all the hopes I had inside
Lay shattered among the past...
In so many ways I was holding Onto a fragment of my life
When everything made sense sometimes.

Take this day and slow it down
Feel the fear, all around.

and Fly thru the night,
Would you give every thing away
For the moment?
Take in the sight
And just give everything away
For a moment...
