Morcheeba, A Military Coup

When the tower tumbled We began anew Had no time for warning Only dj vu

It comes flashing back Then just fades to black All gone

All the land rejoices
Now the coast is clear
No more silent voices to whisper in your ear
I am in my element with a panoramic view
There's no inspiration like
A military coup

Children blowing kisses Strangers to the truth Carrying the wishes of a bygone youth Bye bye cabaret Sci-fi agony All gone

All the land rejoices
Now the coast is clear
No more silent voices to whisper in your ear
I am in my element with a panoramic view
There's no compensation like
A military coup

A mellow melody Rolling endlessly How long How long How long
