

Morray, Still Here (feat. Cordae)

It ain't the same in this world
But I'm still here
Gotta be strong as I can
Hiding all these fears
Being stuck in the chains for so many years
But I gotta play the game cuz I'm holding all of these tears

Hot summers with cold winters
Empty stomachs with no dinners
Fast losers and slow winners
Real niggas, no hoe in us
Never pro-tenders
All authentic my nigga (uh)
I know the struggle and very well
They say life ain't no fairytale
And real music barely sells
My lil homie just made bail
I heard that Earth is a strange hell
As of recent I can't tell
Vision clouded, wires routed
Nothing new about it
Gettin' high thinking about that cash
And what we'd do without it
Niggas with the least to offer usually who the loudest
Meditation smoke that medication through the mountains
Oh Lord, Oh Lord I heard you
Found myself and I'm searchin'
We been sinnin' but won't do it on purpose

Give it my all going harder but my heart is still hurting

What did we do to deserve it, yeah

It ain't the same in this world
But I'm still here
Gotta be strong as I can
Hiding all these fears
Being stuck in the chains for so many years
But I gotta play the game cuz I'm holding all of these tears

Just reminiscing 'bout the days a nigga needed whippings
They way I'm acting nowadays a nigga really miss 'em
No real location moving around is how a nigga living
A rolling stone I lay my hat down well you get the picture
With words I'm tryna depicted it
Some people will never get it
Some people pretend to get it just so act like they can fit in Playing the hell out these women
Most women cheat on their man
Just to find nobody's better
And expect him to understand
I mean it's cool to be broke
I mean it's cool to be robbed
Yea I sound dumb as bitch
That's what I'm hearing from y'all
I can't be happy an gangstas
Cuz these niggas will test ya
Bring the problems to me on Jesus
I promise you I'll bless you (Hallelujah)

It ain't the same in this world
But I'm still here
Gotta be strong as I can
Hiding all these fears

Being stuck in the chains for so many years
But I gotta play the game cuz I'm holding all of these tears
