

Morris Albert, Someday

Someday, you're gonna say you understand me
You're gonna say you want to hold me
You're gonna want to call me love

Someday, you're gonna take the time to look around
And when you find you really love me
How you will need me, love

* And then, you're gonna be standing at my door
You're gonna pray for me to open it
And let you come in... (Come into my life)
At that time
You're gonna tell me that you were wrong
But, maybe then I'll leave you all alone
Saying just so long

Baby, why don't you believe in me
Baby, why don't you believe in me
