

Motion City Soundtrack, The Worst Part

the worst part every hour of every day can you hear them theres no escape but the truth is theres a line that we all cross ive been crossed out we all get crossed out all the same sad lives all the love that disappears we are aching bones and wasted years

we have few regrets save it for every night alone in the sinking ship and haunted home out of the blue out into the loneliest place that you ever know. i carried the world just as far as i could but the damage had taken its tole.

you used to call my name every hour of every day how i live to hear that sound but every sound gets washed away we wash away

we are not as strong we have almost disappeared all the love we shared was destroyed years ago

all the days and nights days of having lots of lies as the clockwork creeps on useless lives

out of the blue out into the loneliest place that you ever know.
i carried the world just as far as i could but the damage had taken its tole

and the years have been unkind we no longer have control and we used to make a smile Pursue the sound and lock the door We are no more

i wrote a letter, a letter to write from the start i married the madness who left me alone in the dark wrote down her a letter "ill shiver without you tonight" i did everything right
i did everything i thought was right

you used to call my name
every hour of every day

we wash away
