

Motor Ace, Lowrider

Two can play games when it comes to minds
But only one of us has designs
I'm not dull, just easier to stone
It's hard to explain why I'm not to blame
For feelings that die quicker than they came
Tall lies, size, easier to stain
Not being interesting
Today I thought
I felt like selling myself short
You'll see that nothing's changed
Ya mind don't change with the times
We're both out of phase when it comes the time
While all your disguises are falling to pieces
I'm just trying to make sense of lyrics
Two can play games when it comes to minds
But only one of us has designs
I'm not dull, just easier to stone
