

Mott The Hoople, Second Love

(Verden Allen)

I know you have a second love
Another one you're thinking of
What is there now that I can do
I'll always feel the same for you
Why does it have to be this way
Maybe before we'll change some day
I only hope that you will stay
Can't keep going on this way
Well if you go away from me girl
Well I know that you're not the one to blame
When I see the tears come running from your eyes
It'll make you start
It'll make you start to realise
I'm crossed between your second love
It ain't just me you're thinking of
And what is there now that I can do
I'll always feel the same about you
