

Mr. T Experience, Make Up

I know you can't make up your mind I can't make up my mind either though we know we haven't got time we still keep on digging deeper and I want to say there's no use in pretending but I could pretend forever cause the more we pretend the more we get into though we know we know better you make up your watery eyes and I'll make up more excuses on beyond believable lies you really don't think I'd do it but we're only a step away from disaster every day brings us closer and the closer we get the more we go after pushing each other over and I don't want to see us run over by a truck that would be so pointless so I'm looking both ways but I don't know why I try so hard to avoid it can't make up my mind I'll make up my mind when you make up your mind
