

Mr. T Experience, Our Love Will Last Forever And

How long will our love last?

I'm very glad you asked, cause if the world don't end,
and the sun don't blot out from the sky, and we don't get drive-by shot, and if we kiss each other a lot, our love will last forever and ever.

Love is strong enough, of course, to withstand almost any force,
so if the world don't end, and we're not destroyed, and if the earth's not hit by an asteroid (that's something to avoid)
our love will last forever and ever.

Oh, here we go.

Isn't it nice to know our love will last forever and ever?

I think you and me are valid:

we're two caterpillars in the salad,
and that's the way it's supposed to be.

We're old and weather-beaten.

We haven't yet been eaten, but that's no guarantee.

You saw me off at the knee.

You got your teeth in me, so if we're not vaporized in world war three,
and if there's nothing good tonight on tv and if you don't meet somebody with more money than me,
our love will last forever and ever.

So let's hope the world won't end, and let's promise once again that if the world don't end and the sky don't fall, and if there's nothing happening at the mall, and if we have any luck at all, our love will last forever and ever.

Oh, don't get lost.

Just keep your fingers crossed, and our love will last forever and ever.