

Mungo Jerry, Because I Want You

Can you hear me calling, My voice is loud and my cry rings out,
It's been said before now it's over,
I hear the sounds of the choir singing,
It only reminds me of you,
Because I want you,
There's nothing I can do.

Sitting in the chapel I hear the sounds,
But there's no one there,
I guess it's just the music of the moment,
The band strikes up the fanfare's playing,
It's the end of the show and there's no encore,
But I need you more and more.
