Muse, City Of Delusion

Stay away from me Build a fortress And shield your beliefs Touch the divine As we fall in line

Can I believe
When I don't trust
All your theories
Turn to dust
I choose to hide
From the all seeing eye

Destroy this City of Delusion Break these walls down I will avenge Justify my reasons With your blame

You'll not rest Settle for less Until you guzzle And squander what's left Do not deny That you live and let die

Destroy this City of Delusion Break these walls down I will avenge Justify my reasons With your blame
