

Muse, Shine (Acoustic)

Who cares for the life we earned?
Someone sold all the truth you yearned,
Remember when you used to shine
And had no fear or sense of time
When it creeps up on you

You can cry now theres nothing to feel
No ones noticed our loneliness
Remember when you should have teased
And made us scream eternal time

I believed that youd always be here
And once you promised a life with no fear
Please dont break my ideas
And say what thing was always real
I was ...
Take me back again