

Mushroomhead, Nowhere To Go

Morning's gone
Echoes of dawn
Shaking my soul
All but done
Delirium
The rain with the cold
With nowhere to go

(Love destroyed this body figureheads and lies
Have i survived)

Nowhere to go

(we've been brought here for a reason
Be it fate, or internal treason
Souls will be saved,
Or mutiny's waged,
As we plead for something to believe in)

Ringing doubt
Full of ways out
Of something to hold
I erode
Fade like cologne
Shrink inside as i departe the throne

(Love destroyed this body figureheads and lies
Have i survived)

With nowhere to go

(Love destroyed this body figureheads and lies
Have i survived)

One by one til we are all alone

(have i survived)

Nowhere to go

(Love destroyed this body figureheads and lies
Have i survived)
Breathe yet I
Can feel the knife
Widening this great divide
Confession of a fallen king
I'd do almost anything
Die to be your everything!)

If i could end this waking dream
Escape through a scream
And feel i'd won some way
Wade through this dark decay
Welcome an early grave
And put my heart away
To start another game
Its getting old
With nowhere to go

(Hollow hides
From life's embrace
Echoes siren,
My displace
My patience lies

Beside my faith
Denial behind this painted face)

All alone
More than you'll know

One by one til we are all alone

(Love destroyed this body figureheads and lies
Have i survived)

With nowhere to go

(Love destroyed this body figureheads and lies
Have i survived)

Shrink inside as i depart the throne

(have i survived?)

Nowhere to go

(Love destroyed this body
Have i survived)

One by one til we are all alone

With nowhere to go [x2]
Theres nothing left to lose
Do what we have to do.
What do we have to prove... to you?
Theres nothing left to lose
No where to go