

Musiq, 143

how many times have i called you while you were working just to say - left messages on your answer machine about three or four times a day there aren't many more ways in words that i can say so i'll just say it numerically from my heart to you 143 so many times i've bought roses just to see that smile on your face i can't remember how many emails i sent you just to tell you 'bout my day

from my soul to you 143 girl you know you are so special to me and you deserve to be treated exclusively i treat you like valentine's day 365 a year make sure that everything you need will always be right there and i just refuse to be your typical, ordinary, run-of-the-mill, garden-variety lover i'll make sure everyday you life will be like christmas eve i wanna make you feel fine just like a summer breeze 'cause i just refuse to be your predictable, average, run-of-the-mill, garden-variety lover

see sometimes words may get in the way of the things that you really, really mean to say so i wanna take out this time to make sure that how i really feel gets through to you cause listen there aren't many more ways
so i chose to tell you how i feel in a numerical way got so tired of trying to find the most complicated ways of sayin it to you

so i simplified it broke it down to 143 and - that means I LOVE YOU
