Sometimes I wonder why people, act like the way they do
All the drama and changes they, like to take you through
Now it's cool to think that you're cool with somebody but the bottom line reality
No matter how bad that you think you do, dawg you don't know me
When you see me in public don't you worry about it yo it's cool
I shake your hand give mad love I ain't got no beef with you
Just understand that sometimes I need my space to breathe
You probably feel the same as me, if these shoes were on your feet,
I can't control how you feel about it
But all the drama I sure can do without it. Yeah
So go on, and feel the way that you want bout how you think I am
But remember at the end of the day
I'm just a person like you trying to do the best that I can
And that's real.

I wanna thank you for letting me be myself
I wanna thank you [repeat]
