

Must, I'll Find What I've Been Seeking

Within the struggle I finding peace
Here in the madness I am released
Upon the rhythm of an ancient melody
Inside a trance that catapults me
Yeah I wander
I wander
And in myself I sure

Il find what le been seeking before too long
Il find you and Il keep you close
I still reaching out here don you know
What above is down below

And I beginning to understand that my demons are Really my friends
But you won see the bastards dragging me down
For I accepting their gifts of ascent and insight

Fair is not and foul is a place
From which wings emanate
And karma reigns
