

Mustard Plug, Something New

From what I remember
The first time I saw you
You gave me hope for something new
Do me a favor
So I can do one too
You gave me hope for something new

Now it's all I see
That what I really need
Is just you to hold on
The one that belongs
For you to hold to me

Give me a reason
A photograph or two
You gave me hope for something new
Turnin' up all mine
And why can't I be you?
You gave me hope for something new

I know I'm not perfect
And I hope you don't agree
As I send this out to you one more time

Because now I see
