

My Brightest Diamond, Ice and Storm

Open up your heart to me
Darling you're resisting this place
You've been dreaming only of it

It's just like ice building up inside

Darling we've accumulated too much miscommunication
In the beginning everything is soft, [not?] defensive. Perhaps we begin again, shining

I want to love you [to sleep?]
I want to love you [to sleep?]

So nothing is stopping me from receiving from giving out

I want a storm to blow it out
I want to shake myself and turn my heart inside out
I want a storm to blow it out
I want to shake myself and turn my heart inside out

Open up your heart to me now
Open
Darling you're resisting this place
You've been dreaming only of it

I want a storm to blow it out
I want to shake myself and turn my heart inside out
I want a storm to blow it out
I want to shake myself and turn my heart inside out

Don't you want to let it go
Let it go
(Darling you're resisting this place)
Let it go
(You've been only dreaming only of it)

Let it go
Let it, let it, let it go
