

My Darkest Days, One Last Time

Breathe in the air outside we we're sitting in the sun nothing's wrong i was happy for the first time in my life what can i do
to change your mind
to change your mind
let me look in to your eyes one last time i never forget the way it was before
let me look in to your eyes one last time i never forget (i can believe that) you left me wanting more don't leave me here behind chasing the shadow in the night i'll be lost here without you
to change your mind
to change your mind
i never forget the way it was before
i never forget (i can believe that) you left me wanting more you left me wanting more
let me look in to your eyes one last time
i never forget the way it was before
let me look in to your eyes one last time i never forget
let me look in to your eyes one last time
i never forget the way it was before
let me look in to your eyes one last time
i never forget (i can believe that) you left me wanting more
let me look in to your eyes one last time
let me look in to your eyes one last time
don't leave
