

My Diet Pill, Ego & I

Disillusion, dissension
One love for a life but no life for one love
No sacrifice, no compromise
Misunderstandings and we're fed up staying
If one feeling can hurt a man
I wanna be inhuman
I ain't got no lust for pleasure
I don't want to suffer

Dysfunction, distortion
See the modern quest, the blooming of itself
Don't look backward, don't look forward
This generation waits for a revelation
If one feeling can hurt a woman
She wanna be inhuman
Is there anyone who can help her?
She doesn't want to suffer

Tell me if it's a game
See your empty life
Tell me if it's a shame
See my empty life

Division, destruction
Nuclear family has one foot in the grave
Solitude in the hive
One point for self-service lives
I like your void, do you like mine?
We're glad untogether
I like your freedom, do you like mine?
See us when it's better

Do you trust me?
When I say I'm nothing when you don't look at me
When you give me substance to be something now
If not, I won't be anything
When this world comes back to the void
Do you trust me now?
