

My Former Self, Your Direction

Relieve Me

Help me to find happiness in nothing
I said, I'll help you out as much as I can.

Although you may break down soon
Drop to your knees and cry out.

A path for you

A direction to surely set you straight

Comfort that you find on my shoulder

As the cold wet tears of sadness drop on to my sleeve

Cry out

Say you're lost but I see you

Open your eyes maybe you can see yourself too
