

My Superhero, Wonderin'

i wonder what you really wonder i've been going under what i've left behind it's been over but now it's really over i won't look over my shoulder cause you ran out of time i walked outside and found a way out of this life i made for you it's funny how everything turns out when you're just a day away give it another thought not for me but what you forgot give another thought not for me but for what you... lately time has moved so fast and i lost all my faith in you i tried and tried now my hope has died but at least i'm not alone looking at your situation common sense went on vacation stop and look at where you started now take a look where you landed hey i'm up here up here is so very clear hey i'm up here and you're getting smaller everyday
