

Myles Kennedy, Say What You Will

Under the lights
On display
Locked in your sights
I'm pulling away

Opinions and pride
How much can one take?
Seduced by the game no more
Seduced by the game no more

Say what you will of me
Still I dare to be
More than what you are

I will not concede
Til my destiny
Is etched in the sky with the stars

A turn of the knife
A slip of the tongue
The bitter and blind
A jury of one
Well, speak your mind but tell me
Who are you to judge at all?

You can
Say what you will of me
Still I dare to be
More than what you are

I will not concede
Til my destiny
Is etched in the sky with the stars

Who do you think you are?
Just one more voice in the dark
But I'll pay no mind at all

Say what you will of me
Still I dare to be
More than what you are

Say what you will of me
Still I dare to be
More than what you are

I will not concede
Til my destiny
Is etched in the sky with the stars

Ooh I will be much more than you are
