

'N Sync, You Don't Have To Be Alone

JC:

I don't know when we fell apart
The love that we had was like a work of art
I used to see Heaven in your eyes
The angels are falling from your skies
Things we said were so wrong
And I haven't held you for so long
My foolish pride turns me inside
Why did we tell all those lies?
You can reach, for the phone
You don't have to be alone

Outside the winter seems so cold
Your heart is frozen like the snow
And there's no one home to keep you safe and warm
Your eyes are red because you've cried
You fell asleep by the fireside
But there's one thing you should know
On this Christmas baby
You don't have to be alone

Justin:

And I had only one wish on my list, oh
For me you would be the perfect gift, oh yeah
There's nothing colder than an empty home, oh no (empty home)
And holidays were never meant to be alone, oh (to be alone)
The smiles we gave when our hearts were safe
By each other's love and warmth
That's subsided now with happiness around
If I can only find the way to your heart

Outside the winter seems so cold (so cold, so cold)
Your heart is frozen like the snow (frozen like the snow, oh so cold)
And there's no one home to keep you safe and warm (no one home, keep you safe and warm yeah)
Your eyes are red because you've cried (you've cried)
You fell asleep by the fireside (by the fireside)
But there's one thing you should know (one thing you should know)
On this Christmas baby
You don't have to be alone yeah, uh

You don't (no, no) have to be alone
You don't have to be (no, no) all alone at home
Ohhhh on Christmas
You don't (you don't) have to be alone
You don't have to be (alone) alone
You don't have to be alone

Outside the winter seems so cold (so cold, sing it baby)
Your heart is frozen like the snow (frozen like the snow yeah like a snow)
And there's no one home (no one home) to keep you safe and warm (to keep you safe and warm)
You don't have to be alone
Your eyes are red because you've cried (you've cried)
You fell asleep by the fireside (by the fireside)
But there's one thing you should know (one thing you should know)
On this Christmas baby, you don't have to be. Alone. Yeah
