

Nachtfalke, Men From North

Dragonships arrive on the coast enemies see them and fight is lost men from north march through the sand with iron axe and sword in hand They see the enemy praying on their knees begging for mercy to the Christianity but no one hear their silent shouts when their souls turn to heaven out Vikings - ruler of the sea
Vikings - live on eternally
Vikings - "hail" our battle cry
Vikings - let our solaryan sun wheel fly
The village burns the children cry flames are lightening the sky the soil is covered with red blood slaughtered bodies lay in the mud The nordic men are leaving the place go to their ships with a smile in their face they plundered and seal back in the dark night battle new dawn will bring a new fight
Vikings - ruler of the sea
Vikings - live on eternally
Vikings - "hail" our battle cry
Vikings - let our solaryan sun wheel fly
