

Nachtfalke, To Honour Wotan

Warriors come from the land of fog ten thousand shield by shield swords with the enemies red blood
ten thousand shield by shield armored riders with weapons of steel
ten thousand shield by shield
The northstar always guides them from battle to battle with anger and wrath against all christianity they fight with strength and honour day by day ashes of churches and blood red swords raped nuns screaming under impaled prayers corpse we hold the swords up high to honour Wodan Warriors come...
Battlecrys are sounding in the endless fight brave mans of iron conquering strange lands their axes are fed by the prayers blood the sound of horns spread all over the land a painfull death and a godless victory we smash the christian cross to honour Wodan Warriors come...
In Valhall were the brave man fight side by side with gods in Valhall were the great last battle will be fight with power and might die in the final fight to honour Wodan in Valhall
Warriors come...
