

Nada Surf, In The Mirror

I look in the mirror
to see what my hair is doing is it kind of skywalker or is it kind of stupid? but that's not the real reason i'm looking i need a reminder of what i'm doing i need a reminder that i'm human in my dreams i love you like a snowstorm in the night the windows open wide here comes reflected light we can keep the covers up it's like we never stop but do dreams ever do damage to life? when you need so much you can't get it right who else is here today? i'm alone but can't obey swim on my back at night near my clothes and a flashlight
why am i complicated?
i'm trying to see clearer
the sun has faded
