

Nadia Gifford, I Cry

I waited in the pouring rain
Each raindrop representing my tears
The tears that I can never let out
I felt alone more than ever

The rain suddenly stopped when you came
My loneliness abandoned me at once
Oh, but when you spat those words at me
The rain just poured down on me again

I cry...
To try to cry my pain away
Alone, nobody around
I say you pay for all the things you said

Words penetrate into everybody's soul
And yes, I was a victim of your words
You suddenly said you loved me
You were a fool to say such words

I try...
To dry my eyes that don't have tears
Whatever you say, I can't rely
I can only imagine you're just like those people
Who try to break me down
Who try to scratch my dignity away
I don't understand why...

So tell me why
You think you're any different from them all
Can you see
That I don't need any love from anyone?
I only trust
Myself, but the truth is
That I shy away from you..
You're really all I want

There's never a rising sun in the pouring rain
To show you my weakness, I can never do(?)
With tears burning deep inside
I walked away from you

Ohh....

So tell me why
You think you're any different from them all
Can you see
That I don't need any love from anyone?
I only trust
Myself, but the truth is
That I shy away from you

So tell me why
You think you're any different from them all
Can you see
That I don't need any love from anyone?
I only trust
Myself, but the truth is
You're really all I want
