

Nailpin, Shortcut

When you kicked back the chair by lack of self esteem,
This rope still tied you down
To a world that kept you bound,
The same where I want you around
Why can't it just be like before
That's all I ask for nothing more

'Cause he took a shortcut where I can't follow him
And now he's left me here on my own
I won't be able, to catch him anymore
Still I'm wasting my time while I sit here trying to figure...

Deep down we all expected that call,
'Cause we knew that you've suffered too long
I'm so sorry that you're gone,
But regrets won't fix that neither songs
Why can't it be just like before
That's all I ask for nothing more

'Cause she took a shortcut where I can't follow her
And now she's left me here on my own
I won't be able, to catch her anymore
Still I'm wasting my time while I sit here trying to figure...

'Cause they took a shortcut where I can't follow them
And now they left me here on my own
I won't be able, to catch them anymore
Still I'm wasting my time while I sit here trying to figure
Where we went wrong
