

Najwa Nimri, Bitten Everywhere

Bitten everywhere
Bitten everywhere
Get lost in the beginning of this love

Bitten everywhere
Bitten everywhere
It all hurts when something really matters
Sometimes you know that really happens

You've got to lose
You've got to lose from the bottom now
Near the beginning
Near the place to start
Bitten everywhere you lose your blood
Bitten everywhere you lose your blood
Something i'm supposed to do
Something i'm supposed to learn
Something i'm supposed to do

Bitten but learning every day of love that never happens
Bitten but learning every day of love that shouldn't happen
Go far, i think you're going too far
Do something funny and change this lazy day
Love sickness turns into a funny game

Something to do today, i think i'm going fast
Running far, running, running far

Something to do
I see that we begin to lighten up
Then you (x2)

Light up
The stars (x2)

You know i'm bitten everywhere now
There's something to do
Something to pray for us, for us (x2)

For us, for us, for us, for us,
For us, for us, for us
For us, for us
