

Najwa Nimri, Diamond Animal

Want to be, want to be

Want to be your siamese
Holding you through the forest
The torch will enlighten the way

You're still the king

History of deer
Rebel and darkened
When he was five
Had eaten pure of crystals

You're still the king
Abyss and avalanches
Inside the son of jupiter

You're still the king

Diamond animal
Your passion is the target of the archer
Cannot live without hope
But don't you make a sacrifice
If free love is unconditional
You're still the king

I still wanted be your siamese
My dark diamond animal, animal (x2)

A light like you it's not ending
Still looking
It's to die to leave, we put out too low
And ignorant, don't

Without any trances of violence
We are getting ready
We have to know when
'Cause you're in a hurry