

Naked Aggression, Ode To A Fucked Up World

Sometimes I hate reality, it makes me feel so bad.
Seeing people hurt each other and they don't even care.

I think of self-destruction but I tell those thoughts to go away
I won't give up, I will hang on. I'll keep living from day to day.
I don't plan ahead or think of yesterday,
I wonder what to do now instead.
I think about this fucked up world until my eyes are blazing red.

Every time I watch the news or read a magazine,
the pain and suffering in this world make me want to scream.
People hating others because the color of their skin.
People rape and kill each other for fucked up reasons

We lived in a FUCKED UP WORLD! (x4)
