

Nakedheart, Love

Love is patient love is kind love wont try to mess up your mind
Love never promotes itself love will put itself to rest

You feel alone in a crowded room there's nowhere left to hide
You are alone in a crowded space tears are streaming down
And you don't know what to do cry out loud
Let love heal the pain cry out loud
Let love heal the pain inside of you

Love will last when all is done
Faith hope and patience are so strong
Love will always persevere
These walls will disappear

These three things remain faith hope love
Only 3 things remain faith hope love
And the greatest of these is love