

Nana Mouskouri, Missing

You're missing
You're gone
another lies beside you I've no doubt
You're missing
Conspiracies of silence hide you keep me out
They nearly had me believing that you did not exist
But I know you really left me
I and how you are missed

You're missing
The lover who was once around you
Has no news
You're missing
And even if by change I found you
I'd still lose
For I know you're loosing interest
instead of your heart
The world turns around and leaves me
right back at the start
I'm back at the start
They nearly had me believing
that you did not exist
But I know you really left me
and how you are missed
You're missing
The lover who was once around you
Has no news
You're missing
And even if by change I found you
I'd still lose
For I know you're loosing interest
instead of your heart
I'm back at the start

You're missing
