

Nana Mouskouri, Your Love, My Love

In a world as changeable as skies above
Where the eagle all too often overtakes the dove
There is one thing in this life we can be certain of
Your love, my love

Nation fights with nation
Everyday somewhere
But through every situation
We will not despair
For we know that our salvation
Is the gift we share
Your love, my love

Lock me, desert me
I'll get by love
Now you're my love
Nothing can hurt me
Now I'm sure of your love

When our castles crumble, when our dreams take flight
And we sometimes find it hard to face the morning light
There is one thing that will see us through the darkest night
Your love, my love

I will never fear what fate may have in store
For with every passing year
I love you more and more
And as long as I'm alive
I will be living for
Your love, my love

Lock me desert me
I'll get by love
Now you're my love
Nothing can hurt me
Now I'am sure of your love

In a world where peace and harmony are strange
And whatever dreams our destiny may rearrange
There is one thing on this earth that time will never change
Your love, my love
Your love, our love
