

Napalm Death, Constitutional Hell

Everything fits nicely into place
Higher powers take the lead Middleman sit, pondering his worth One great scheme to stem (the) objective urge

Decision-making and power playing
One up-manship

Show of hands
to clasp the myth
Vote in a new scourge

Everything fits nicely into place
Higher powers take the lead
Issues are decided before we've a chance to think And moral high ground wins the day again

Decision-making
and power playing
principles spurned

Show of hands
to clasp the myth
Favors for my friends

it's a constitutional hell where they pontificate and yell Where etiquette outplays integrity
It's a constitutional hell

higher powers take the lead Sleeping giants show their real worth I'll sum up on all the good you've done this earth...
