

Narcoze, Grains of Sand

Stay for a while Take my hand
We'll shall never cry
I will-will be there and scream out loud your name Walking the long road to know what life means We can't live alone Don't look at the past grab my arms
I'll embrace you with my wings of tranquility
My eyes can't see why you're crying but my heart knows that I am the reason of all of your tears
When the shadows disappear and there's nothing left to give and the moments that we've shared Now they turn to grains of sand Lay down your head on me Cause I care for you You'll see in the feelings that i don't show
We both know we're growing old
