

Nasty Boy Clique, Are U Still Down

hey how u doin girl basicly i just wanna know are u still down for mine uhhhh u know ill always be down u still down for mine baby u still down for mine

and u should know i will be around
baby

i think it was the 3rd grade when i realize how much i was attracted to your light-brown eyes and ever since that very first day of school i felt a lil something when i looked at you and even though my friends would tease and laugh i was always trying to next to you in class maybe cause you always treated me so kool but if it wasnt for u i wouldnt go to school i rather be home writing ur name a thousand times day dreaming in the lunch line and on the playground time fly by so fast but lucky for me we where in the same class now im looking foward to after school sometimes i got brave and walked home with you i only got a dollar but i promise you that ima get u a lil somethin from the ice cream man

u stil down for mine baby

now its a brand new year and we're both in the 5th grade my my my how the summer changed the way u walk the way u talk the way u dress its like meeting u all over again and for the first time u pass me a lil note giving me your number to call u at home im so excited telling all my friends that when i pick up the phone im getting kinda nervous walking with your girlfriends talking to guys even made me kinda jealous sometimes but all the jealousy just went away when i played football and u would yell my name the years passed by and we continued to grow if it was up to me ill never let you go i guess the question that keeps coming to mind is tell me girl are u still down for mine

-- i could search this world i will never find another love like us im so glad that ur mine if u ever go i will be so sad how can i survive i think i will die-- junior high around the corner what we gonna do i hope we'll be together for a class or two and maybe lunch time we could reminisce talk about the weekend, study for a test what ever destiny brings to you and me i hope that always remember we belong together never meant to be apart give me all your trust and ima give u my heart i've heard many times that men dont cry but when i think of loosing you i get a chill inside people everywhere doing every body wrong wish that i could fix it by writing a song i guess reality brings it down to life and a loving warm heart can turn as cold as ice but ima do what ever to show u im straight down for yours if your down for mine
