

Nat Stuckey, I Used It All On You

Lord there's just no love to give her I used it all on you

She's an angel and she could fill any man's dream
I do nothing to deserve her yet she treats me like a king
She worships me all she wants is my love too
But there's just no love to give her I used it all on you

When she turns to me it breaks what's left of my heart
She's do anything if I'd love her but there's nowhere for her to start
She holds me just the way I wanted you to
But there's just no love to give her I used it all on you

Each time I try to love her I feel so ashamed
Cause there's no love only kindness and that's just not the same
I've even learned to hate you but what good did it do
For there's still no love to give her I used it all on you
There's just no love to give her I used it all on you
