

Nat Stuckey, She Wakes Me With A Kiss Every M

She wakes me with a kiss every morning and she loves me to sleep every night
How lucky I am to have searched for and found the beginning of the rest of my life
She wakes me with a kiss every morning and she loves me to sleep every night
Her goal for each day is to find some new way to please me and keep me satisfied
She wakes me with a kiss every morning and she loves me to sleep every night
Her love is too strong to let me be wrong even when we both know I'm to blame
And when trouble and hard times're raining her love soaks up my share of the rain
Mhm she never complains and I've never seen distance in her baby blue eyes
She wakes me with a kiss every morning and she loves me to sleep every night
Oh she wakes me with a kiss every morning and she loves me to sleep every night
