

Natalia 'Natu' Przybysz, Friend

Hello my friend
I found You
This pain from my heart
I knew it had to be You
Hello my friend
What can I do for You?
Hey, You look so good
I'm proud of You
You're my friend of my soul
My friend of my soul- my closest one
You've been my lover for long I've seen others but
Your touch brings me home
Hello
I know Your face
Sometimes it's hard to bare
The same fire that keeps You warm
Can burn down Your house and tear Your clothes
You told me the precious thing:
"To build and destroy can be act of love"
You clear my eyes of tears sometimes and show me way outside the box.
I see Your face when you embrace me with the wave of sadness
I lost my tribe and You remind me all the precious legends
Of how I ran across the sky with roots deep in the ground
Into the edge of time.
