

Natalie Browne, Run Away

V1

I&#039;m gettin&#039; frustrated with the way you deal with things
You always withdraw from me, refuse to communicate
I don&#039;t know how much more, more that I can take
I&#039;ve given all I can, tried to give you everything
I&#039;ve tried a thousand times
To get you to be real with me
You promise that you&#039;ll change
That your priorities will rearrange
But I&#039;m tired of the games
The silly way you play
I share my heart with you
In return all that you do is

Chorus:

You just run away, just run away
Nothing to offer, no words to say
You just run away, just run away
You don&#039;t deal with the problems at hand
You just run away, just run away
You don&#039;t connect
With me you don&#039;t stay
You just run away, you run away
You cop out and you run away

V2

You took some time off, took some time &quot;to think&quot;
But baby, behind my back I think you&#039;re playing games
I waited by the phone for you to call today
But it didn&#039;t ring, I guess you don&#039;t think of me when you&#039;re awa
You say you love me but your words and actions don&#039;t justify
You just playin&#039; with my heart, do the least to get by
I can&#039;t take anymore of you runnin&#039; out the door
Babe, I gave all that I have, but you don&#039;t care cuz you just run away

Bridge:

I ain&#039;t takin&#039; this no more
Gonna get out on my own
Out on my own gonna settle the score
I&#039;ve played this game a thousand times
But baby this time it&#039;s me who is breakin&#039; the ties
I&#039;ve taken all I can, but no, no more
