

Natalie Durham, Captain Sam

Captain sam woke up this morning and the skies above are storming as he tied his shoes.
his wings are clipped onto his pocket his front door he locked it before he drove away.

captain captain, now the skies are clear won't you fly me far away from here maybe first class or i could sit in the back captain, captain, take me away fly me to another day lets go and get out of the black

i got up got out of bed with a mess on my head ready to go home.
say goodbye to all my friends you know its better in the end you know i've got to go captain sam, his voice comes on take off's short but our journeys long say goodbye to california captain sams plane engines roar take off and we start to soar i'll sit in first class all the way
