

Natalie Durham, Caroline

once upon a fairy time in a far away far away land there was a girl named Caroline waitin' for her own dream man now prince charming wasn't on time he stood up poor caroline so you must realize the tears in carolines eyes

my story about the world
my story about a girl
who's gonna save poor caroline cuz prince charming wasn't on time so far in this fairy tale guess I should call it fairy hell we have our poor caroline and prince charming out of time she's balled up on the floor can't keep her eyes from the door all she hears is the clock telling time any knock will do just fine

she's running out of time no more hope 'n' no more prayer open the door, but noones there why do I life in a fairy hell first she whispers now she yells someone walks up one step at a time not prince charming but prince fine she dries her eyes and takes his hand they stroll to fairy land

my story about a girl
someone saved poor caroline she almost ran out of time

my story about a girl
cuz prince charming wasn't on time
