

Natalie Grant, Home

you keep watching the rain come down pretty princess, broken crown and you dreams have all burned out but don't you know that they brought you here somehow, all you need to know is....

CHORUS:

you're home, where secrets are told see a new world unfolding where hearts are one, the pain'sundone and you're dinally belonging and you need to know, you need to know you're home
and you need to know, you need to know
you're home

so take you coat off and stay awhile what made you cry can make you smile again you can hold you head up high 'cause don't you nkow that you oh, girl you were born to fly when you realize....

CHORUS

everything's gonna be alright

'cause you're home feel the sun, you day has come you're not alone